The Pilkington Medium Brim

Heading somewhere hot? Here's the ultimate sun hat.

Offering protection, comfort and a certain amount of sartorial distinction, our Pilkington hat is the perfect choice for the adventurous traveller.

Originally designed for serial explorer and long-time friend of Rohan, John Pilkington, the hat is built to take the knocks of a lifetime of abuse.

It's made from a durable blend of polyamide and elastane with our Dynamic Moisture Control™ finish.

It offers very good (UPF40+)* level of protection from the harmful effects of UV radiation, a useful level of wind protection and cool comfort in hot or humid conditions.

It's easy to wash – in a machine, a bucket or a stream – and will dry in just a few hours.

Features include a removable, elasticated chin-strap, a secret pocket hidden in the crown and venting holes in the side.

The Pilkington is available in three sizes:

Small/Medium 57cm

Medium/Large 59cm

Extra Large 61cm

To check your hat size, use a tape measure to measure your head circumference approximately 2cm above your ears in a place where the hat would sit comfortably – you might need an explorer's assistant to help with this bit.

*A Note on Sun Protection

All Rohan garments which carry our sun protection icon, have been tested in accordance with recognised international standards for ultraviolet radiation protection. As a guide to the level of protection offered to covered areas, garments are awarded a rating of either UPF 20+ or UPF 40+. Protection may be significantly reduced with extended wear or if the garment is stretched or wet; the reduction of associated health risks will vary with other factors such as skin type or individual medical history.
